5. About the unit/department

Faculty of Business and Law

The Faculty of Business and Law has a strong reputation as a high-quality and innovative provider of management and legal education. It brings together two schools – The Open University Business School and The Open University Law School. Each year around 36,000 students enrol on the Faculty’s business, management and law programmes.

The Faculty received a rating of ‘excellent’ for teaching quality in the most recent HEFCE Teaching Quality Assessment. The Faculty scores very highly in the NSS student survey for student satisfaction.

The Faculty has over 200 internal staff including around 80 central academics, 40 student experience academics, 55 academic-related staff and 30 administrative support staff. Additionally, there are over 500 Associate Lecturers (tutors).

The Open University Business School

Founded in 1983, The Open University Business School holds a unique position as the leader in flexible, accessible and high quality business and management education. It is one of an international elite group of institutions to have triple accreditation by EQUIS, AACSB and AMBA.

The School has four cross-disciplinary academic departments: Strategy and Marketing; Accounting and Finance; People and Organisations; Public Leadership and Social Enterprise. The School offers a wide range of undergraduate, postgraduate, doctoral and executive education programmes.
The 2014 Research Excellence Framework (REF) results show the high quality of the research outputs and impact of the School’s research. The School ranked 34th overall placing it in the top third of UK Business Schools. For impact, the School was placed 16th overall, indicating not only the excellence of the research but also its influence and relevance to user communities in all areas from practice to policy.
