THE SENATE

CONSTITUTION – UPDATED 14.06.2018

Purpose

The Senate is the academic authority of the University which, subject to the powers of the Council, is responsible for promoting the academic work of the University both in teaching and research.

It oversees the University’s academic management, including the curriculum and all aspects of quality and standards associated with the University as a degree-awarding body.

It has the power to make regulations, including those which (subject to the approval of the Council) delegate any of its powers (marked ‘D’ below).

Senate meetings concentrate on major issues of academic strategy, policy, priority and performance.

Terms of Reference

Setting strategy and policy, agreeing priorities, plans and regulations

1 To approve strategies relating to:
   a) undergraduate and taught postgraduate curriculum (including collaborative provision);
   b) learning and teaching
   c) assessment and examinations;
   d) the quality of the student experience
   e) recognition of prior learning
   f) the introduction of partnerships and collaborative provision leading to an award of the University
   g) research

2 To approve regulations relating to:
   a) teaching (including collaborative provision) and research,
   b) courses of study and conditions for admission to the degrees, diplomas, certificates and other academic distinctions offered by the University (including collaborative provision)
   c) admission to, and continuation in courses of study or programmes of research
   d) examinations and assessment for the degrees and other distinctions offered by the University
   e) the discipline of the University’s students

3 To approve the award and withdrawal of degrees, diplomas, certificates and other academic distinctions offered by the University or on its behalf through collaborative provision

4 To make recommendations or to express an opinion to the Council on any matter of interest to the University and its affairs;

Making governance arrangements e.g. appointing to other committees

5 To delegate any powers specifically conferred upon it, subject to the approval of the Council to any person or body constituted for the purpose.
6 To appoint:
   a) members of the Senate to be members of the Council
   b) members of the Senate to be members of Senate committees.

7 To approve proposals for the establishment or dissolution of committees of the Senate

8 To review annually the working of the Senate and its committees

Monitoring and reviewing actions and institutional performance

9 To monitor the academic quality and performance of the University and make recommendations as appropriate.

Matters of public record e.g. ratifying appointments of staff or external examiners

   These powers have been delegated.

Judicial: deciding individual cases

   These powers have been delegated.

Degree Awarding Powers

   The award of degrees to individuals (except for honorary degrees) has been delegated.

Delegated Powers

D To grant degrees and other academic distinctions to those who have pursued a course of study and passed examinations or other assessments approved by the Senate in either the University or a partner institution approved by the University

   To determine the formal arrangements for the conferment of degrees and other qualifications.

D To regulate all University examinations and assessment, and to appoint examiners (internal or external), for the various degrees and other distinctions offered:

   a) by the University
   b) or on its behalf as validated qualifications,
   c) or jointly with other higher education institutions having the power to grant such qualifications

   This regulation will be implemented in conjunction with partner institutions for validated and joint qualifications under terms and conditions specified by the University.

D To recognise, and withdraw as necessary, examinations and periods of study at Universities and places of learning approved by the Senate as equivalent to examinations and periods of study in the University.

D To accept courses of study in any other institution which the Senate considers is able to provide proper instruction as equivalent to courses of study in the University, as the Senate may determine.

D To appoint all members of the academic staff in accordance with procedures approved by the Council.
D To expel any student guilty of grave misconduct in accordance with the agreed procedures for such expulsion.

D To revoke any degree or other distinction conferred by the University or jointly or as a validated qualification if the holder has been convicted of a crime or for other good cause which renders them unfit to be a member or graduate of the University or body permitted by the University to act on its behalf.

Mr Andrew Law Director of Open Media and Informal Learning
1.0 Much of the business of the Senate will stem from the committees reporting to it. As well as approving (or not) major strategies in their final form the Senate would be expected to comment on them at an early stage and guide their development.

2.0 Another major role of the Senate is to review the academic performance of the University. That occurs from time to time through policy reviews.

3.0 The Senate also conducts an annual review of its own effectiveness and of the committees reporting to the Senate. This review is important to provide assurance that the structure is working effectively and to give the opportunity to make adjustments. The Senate, and each of its committees, reviews the business conducted against the terms of reference, the attendance and the membership. OUSA and the Associate Lecturers Executive also review whether the arrangements for their representation have worked effectively, particularly the reference groups which will meet before each meeting of the Senate.

4.0 The academic governance structure operates in the context of the University’s overall governance structure, headed by the governing body, the Council. A key committee is the Strategic Planning and Resources Committee (SPRC). That is a joint committee of the Council and the Senate but where a Council decision is required on a strategy of the University, SPRC makes a recommendation to the Council having, where relevant, taken the advice of the Senate either in the form of consultation with the Senate or one of its committees, or through the Senate representation on SPRC.
1. Role of Senate members

   The Code of Practice for University Elections and Committee Procedure considered by the Senate in June 2005 sets out the following statement:

   “The Senate and its committees shall exercise their responsibilities in a corporate manner, with decisions taken collectively in the interests of the institution as a whole. Members should at all times conduct themselves in accordance with accepted standards of behaviour in public life. They should not act individually or as representatives of a constituency or take decisions on an informal basis outside the constitutional framework. When speaking or voting, they shall not be bound by mandates given to them by others.”

   Senate members should be able to contribute to discussions on major issues of academic strategy, policy, priority and performance.

2. Participation

   The Code of Practice for University Elections and Committee Procedure sets out the following statement:

   “Members should ensure that they have read the relevant papers, and are otherwise adequately briefed, before each meeting. Members are expected to attend regularly, and to participate in meetings of University bodies. Reasonable arrangements should be made to enable remote participation by those working at other University sites, subject to technological limitations and advance notice to the Secretary. It is recognised that circumstances may sometimes prevent attendance or remote participation, and apologies should be sent to the secretary in such cases. The secretary should monitor attendance to support overall effectiveness reviews, and to enable specific problems to be addressed.”

   The Secretary will monitor attendance to support overall effectiveness reviews, and to enable specific problems to be addressed. A 75% overall attendance rate should be expected.

   Regular attendance by a substantial number of the membership is essential to ensure the legitimacy of decisions. A quorum of 50%+1 of the membership at any meeting has been agreed by the Senate to help to guarantee this legitimacy.
