- By signing this form, you (the author(s)) agree to grant to us (The Open University) the exclusive right both to reproduce and/or distribute your article (including the abstract) ourselves throughout the world in printed, electronic or any other medium, and in turn to authorise others (including Reproduction Rights Organisations such as the Copyright Licensing Agency and the Copyright Clearance Center) to do the same. You agree that we may publish your article in the journal named above, and that we may sell or distribute it within the journal, on its own, or with other related material.
- You promise that the article is your original work, has not previously been published, and is not currently under consideration by another journal. If it contains material which is someone else's copyright, you promise that you have obtained the unrestricted permission of the copyright owner (please attach evidence of this) and that the material is clearly identified and acknowledged within the text. You also promise that the article does not, to the best of your knowledge, contain anything which is libellous, illegal, or infringes anyone's copyright or other rights.
- We promise that we will respect your rights as the author(s). That is, we will make sure that your name(s) is/are always clearly associated with the article, and we will not make any substantial change to your article without consulting you. We will have your article fairly reviewed by impartial referees, and will let you know the outcome as quickly as possible. When the article is accepted, we undertake to publish it as soon as we reasonably can. If it is rejected, this agreement is automatically cancelled and all the rights come back to you. On publication, we will send you an electronic copy of the article. We will take all reasonable steps to maximise the visibility of the journal, and of your article within it.

- Copyright remains yours, and we will acknowledge this in the copyright line which appears on your article. However, you authorise us to act on your behalf to defend your copyright if anyone should infringe it, and to retain half of any damages awarded, after deducting our costs. You also retain the right to use your own article (provided you give full acknowledgement of the published original) as follows, as long as this does not conflict with our business: for the internal educational or other purposes of your own institution or company; mounted on your personal web page; in whole or in part, as the basis for your own further publications or spoken presentations. In addition, you may post a copy of the version of your article incorporating changes made during peer review ('postprint') to a free public institutional or subject repository, no sooner than 18 months after publication in the journal; such copy must include the following notice:

© [name of author, year]. The definitive, peer reviewed and edited version of this article is published in [name of journal, volume, issue, pages, year, DOI or URL].

If the funder of your research so requires, we will on your behalf post a copy of the version of your article incorporating changes made during peer review ('postprint') to the repository specified by your funder, 12 months (or otherwise agreed) after publication in the journal. Please notify us of your funder's requirements.

- We will keep the information you have provided for record purposes; you permit your name and address to be reproduced in the journal and on indexing and abstracting and bibliographic services. Your details will not be used for any other purpose.
