

BBC OUPC

Programme Synopsis

TV/VCR

Course Prog. No:	A102 TV14	Producer:	NICK LEVINSON
Programme Title:	Utilitarianism: a lecture by Bernard Williams
Course Title:	Arts Foundation Course
Ident. No:	1/FOU A228W	Spool No:	HOU 5392 All Film/VT: VT
Final Duration:	24' 41"	Recording Date:	16.12.85
1st TX Year:	1987

ADVANCE PRESENTATION TRAIL

PRESENTATION ANNOUNCEMENT (Including special back announcement if required)

The following programme is the first of a pair of programmes introducing students to philosophy.

CONTRACT RESTRICTIONS

Normal OU contracts

RESIDUALS?

One speaker and audience (9 contracts total).
No stills or outside footage.

Signed

Nick Levinson

Date

13.1.87

SYNOPSIS

The first of a pair of programmes introducing students to philosophy. The celebrated English philosopher - Bernard Williams, Provost of King's College, Cambridge, presents a critical paper on the problems of Utilitarianism to a group which includes OU students. Introduced by Stuart Brown of the Open University.

SPEAKERS & DESIGNATIONS

PRESENTER

Bernard Williams (Provost of King's College, Cambridge) - speaker.

Stuart Brown (OU) - introduction.

KEYWORDS

Utilitarianism
Philosophy
Bernard Williams

CORRESPONDENCE COURSE UNIT

TITLE

No :

PUBLISHER