The Student Regulations (including the Code of Practice for Student Assessment and the Code of Practice for Student Discipline) apply to all registered students of The Open University.

These regulations define the basis of the registration agreement between you and us. Students who register for a specific academic qualification from the University are also governed by our Qualification Regulations which deal with registering for a qualification, completing a qualification and other matters about qualifications. Students who register for a module are also governed by our Module Regulations which deal with the award of module credit and how that may be counted towards qualifications.

These regulations should not be read in isolation. It is important that you read them in conjunction with the following documents:

- Code of Practice for Student Assessment;
- Code of Practice for Student Discipline;
- The Module Regulations.

Students who have registered for a qualification or have formally declared a qualification intention should also refer to the Qualification Regulations:

- the relevant General Qualification Regulations;
- the specific regulations governing your qualification.

If you wish to print the regulations governing your relationship with The Open University, you are advised to print all these documents which are available on the Open University website.

OU 1 Authority of the Senate and the Council

OU 1.1 To make regulations
The Senate (our authority for academic matters) may make regulations and rules regarding students who are studying or carrying out research, the continuing study of students, the content of studies, the teaching or supervision of students, and the assessment that is used to decide who qualifies for a qualification.

OU 1.2 Publicity for regulations
Regulations made by the Senate must be published in one of our official publications. The Senate must also say how the regulations should be applied.

OU 1.3 Changes in regulations
The Senate may alter the regulations and rules referred to in OU 1.1, or the way in which it applies them. The Student Regulations may be changed at any time. Changes to module rules will not usually affect modules for which students are registered at the time of the change. In all other cases, the qualification regulations that apply to you are those that are in force:

Revised July 2012, effective from 1 August 2012
• when you apply for entry to the qualification;
• when you progress through the qualification;
• when you are assessed or examined for the qualification; and
• when you become eligible for and, where necessary, apply to receive the qualification.

The Senate gives reasonable notice of changes to the regulations and rules, and the date they take effect.

OU 1.4 Fees and charges

The Council (our governing body) sets fees and other charges after consulting the Senate. The Council of the University has the right to change fees, deposits and other charges without giving you any notice.

OU 1.5 Consequences of not paying fees and charges

a) Provision of services

If you fail to pay your fees, we may cancel a qualification registration and any module registration or enrolment, and you will no longer be entitled to tuition, supervision, module materials or assessment. The Senate will not grant you a degree, diploma, module credit, certificate or other qualification. We will not issue any academic transcripts or references. We reserve the right to withhold any or all other services.

b) Continued provision of university services

If we continue to provide services to you even though you have failed to pay your fees in time, or if we delay in exercising any of our rights or powers noted below, this does not in any way mean that we are giving up any of our legal rights, including the right to bring an action against you for not paying fees.

c) Applying payment

We have the right to apply payments to your oldest outstanding debts.

OU 1.6 Continuous assessment (assignments) and examinations

The Senate sets the rules governing continuous assessment (assignments) and examination for any degree, diploma, module credit, certificate or other qualification of the University. These are set out in the Code of Practice for Student Assessment and in the detailed module rules and Qualification Regulations.

OU 1.7 Language of instruction, assessment and administration

Unless the Senate says otherwise, or the Welsh Language Act 1993 applies, English will be the language that is used for and in all tuition, materials, residential schools, counselling, examinations, assessment and administration in the University.

OU 1.8 University liability

We are not liable for any failure to perform any or all of our obligations if the failure (or delay) is due to the actions of someone else or to any cause beyond our reasonable control.
