Senior Lecturer (AC4) / Lecturer (AC3) in Accounting

About the Role

We are seeking to recruit a Senior Lecturer and two Lecturers in Accounting with a range of teaching and research skills who can make a significant contribution to the School’s Department for Accounting and Finance. In particular, we would encourage applications from those who have expertise in company law or in financial accounting, management accounting, audit and taxation.

Key Responsibilities
A successful candidate will have the following responsibilities:

(i) teaching, by preparing module material as a member of a module team (including writing module units, designing and monitoring tutor-marked assignments and examinations), contributing to the presentation of modules including chairing module teams and the monitoring of the teaching quality;

(ii) undertaking research, pursuing external research funds, publishing and contributing to the faculty’s research culture;

(iii) mentoring early career academics (AC4);

(iv) engage and participate in teaching, research and/or knowledge exchange activities in the university (AC4);

(v) teaching at residential schools or other direct student contact as required; and

(vi) contribute to the general academic and professional life of the university, including active membership and valued contributions to groups, boards or committees within the University or externally.

Skills and experience
A successful candidate is expected to have a PhD in accounting or relevant professional accounting qualification to support teaching and research in accounting, with extensive experience in teaching and research in accounting. A list of essential/desirable criteria is given below:

Essential (AC3/AC4):
- Demonstrable understanding of excellent teaching including curriculum and pedagogical design and development and a commitment to the provision of quality service to students.
- A developing record of research in the area of accounting that is commensurate to the position.
- A good understanding of developing complex accounting teaching materials in English.
- A commitment to professionalism as a colleague and proven track record of working with others as a member of a team.
- A strong commitment to excellence in inclusive learning and teaching for a diverse student population.
Desirable (AC3/AC4):

- Experience relevant to internet-based teaching materials or virtual learning environments.
- Experience with work-based or practice-based learning.

Essential (AC4):

- Demonstrable understanding of excellent teaching including curriculum and pedagogical design and development and a commitment to the provision of quality service to students.
- A strong record of research and/or knowledge exchange in the area of accounting that is commensurate to the position.
- Evidence of leadership in teaching, research and/or knowledge exchange.
- Evidence of supporting others to succeed with achieving objectives.
- Excellent ability to structure and write complex accounting teaching materials in English.
- Evidence of successful research students and/or PhD supervision.
- A commitment to professionalism as a colleague and proven track record of working with others as a member of a team.
- Evidence of active membership and valued contributions to groups, boards or committees.
- A strong commitment to excellence in inclusive learning and teaching for a diverse student population.

Desirable (AC4):

- Knowledge of sub-disciplines sufficient to teach outside areas of expertise.
- Evidence of working with professional accounting bodies
- Experience in distance learning education.
- Experience relevant to internet-based teaching materials or virtual learning environments.
- Experience with work-based or practice-based learning.
- International experience in teaching, managing or researching.
- A record of inter-disciplinary working in teaching and/or research relevant to accounting discipline.

  Understanding of the role (or potential) of accountancy in meeting the UN sustainable development goals