

Talking about Sex, Sexuality and Relationships Masterclasses

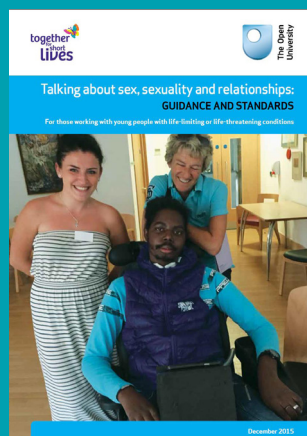

These separate, one day Masterclasses aim to provide greater understanding and awareness of the needs of young people with life-shortening conditions in relation to sex, sexuality and relationships. The day will provide expert input from members of the Sexuality Alliance, led by the Open University in partnership with Together for Short Lives.

The event will be chaired by Lizzie Chambers from Together for Short Lives and will feature presentations from young adults with life-shortening conditions, Maddie Blackburn, Chair of the OU Sexuality Alliance, Claire de Than, Senior Lecturer, City University Law School, Colin Bowker, the CQC, Alison Cooke, Rainbows Children's and Young People's Hospices and Dr Kirsty Liddiard, University of Sheffield.

There will be opportunities for discussion, questions and networking.
