

Presentation pattern    October - June

Module description

E119 is a work-related module that explores a selection of personal skills needed to be effective in sport and fitness settings. These include: communication, motivation, team work, leadership and developing physical skills.

Person specification

The person specification for this module should be read in conjunction with the generic person specification for an associate lecturer at The Open University.

As well as meeting all the requirements set out in the generic person specification, you should have:

- A degree or equivalent in a sports, fitness, exercise or related field
- Experience of working in the sports or fitness sector
- Experience of supporting others' learning at degree level (e.g. through teaching, training or supervision)
- An interest in the personal skills underpinning working roles in sport and exercise
- A willingness to engage with online technologies

It would be an advantage to have:

- Experience of online tuition

Module related details - a full explanation can be found on the website

|   |    |
|---|----|
| Credits awarded to the student for the successful completion of a module: | 60 |
| Number of assignments submitted by the student:                           | 3  |
| Method of submission for assignments:                                     | 2  |
| Level of ICT requirements:  | 2  |
| Number of students likely to be in a standard group:                      | 20 |
| Salary band:  | 8  |
| Estimated number of hours per teaching week:                              | 7  |

The teaching and assessment strategy for this module has not yet been approved and therefore the information is subject to change.