

Clip 4 – Socialist roots

Clip:gb2315jl5231_clip2

From: James Cox meets Jennie Lee, 22nd June 1982

From: audio 5/2/3/1 - BBC interview 1982

In: 00:03:07

Out: 00:03:54

Dur: 47sec

Jennie Lee: My religion came from the Socialist Sunday School, and I used to sing “We are children but one day we’ll be big and strong and say none shall slave and none shall slay, comrades all together.” Then there was my favourite hymn, “Oh beautiful my country, be at thy nobler care, and all thy wealth of commerce, thy harvest waving fair. Be thou to thee oppressed, their freedoms open door.” And of course, about ten I had got religion proper, but it was my father again it was his religion, I was a socialist and we were going to take over the running of the world and “None would slave, and none would slay”.